RCS Travels — Rider Terms

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Who provides the service

RCS Travels is operated by RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS, a proprietorship, at G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207. These terms cover bookings made through our website, supported messaging channels and booking service. The Rider Privacy Notice, Refund and Cancellation Policy and Rider Grievance Policy explain related parts of the service.

Accounts and booking for another person

The account holder and person making the booking must be at least 18 and legally able to enter a contract. Keep your contact details accurate and do not share your login or verification codes. An adult may book for another adult with that person's knowledge and authority. Give them the booking details and privacy notice. Do not send us another person's documents or sensitive information unless needed and authorised.

A child may travel only with a responsible accompanying adult under this policy. An adult booking does not by itself make an unaccompanied child ride available. Seats, restraints, luggage and vehicle capacity must suit the trip. Contact support before booking if you need assistance that the booking form does not describe.

Requests, confirmation and availability

Submitting a request does not guarantee a vehicle. A scheduled booking's payment confirmation is distinct from a captain accepting the ride. Check the booking status, assigned vehicle, pickup and scheduled time. Traffic, weather, road restrictions and vehicle availability can affect estimates. Tell support promptly if the assigned vehicle or captain differs from the details shown. Do not enter a vehicle if you reasonably believe it is unsafe.

If a captain cancels before the ride starts, the booking may return to matching for a replacement. That does not mean the rider's booking has ended. You may use the supported cancellation or support flow if you do not want to wait. Refunds and any legal remedies remain available as explained in the Refund and Cancellation Policy.

Fare and payment

The booking must show the fare or calculation basis and any selected extra before you confirm. Read any disclosed shared-ride/solo-fallback price before choosing a shared option. Do not assume every service, vehicle or route has the same price. Mandatory taxes and charges must be disclosed as applicable; this document does not authorise an undisclosed surcharge.

Ride Now normally requires payment after completion. Scheduled rides normally require a 10% advance, calculated and rounded by the service. Discounts or an available booking credit may reduce the advance, including to zero. The advance forms part of the fare; it is not an extra booking charge. Pay only the remaining amount shown after crediting an advance or adjustment.

Use the payment options displayed for your booking, including supported UPI or cash recording. Never give a captain or support person your UPI PIN, OTP or bank password. Payment confirmation and receipts should be checked against the booking. Contact support about a duplicate, missing or incorrect charge.

Cancellations and changes

The separate Refund and Cancellation Policy gives the current product rules, including fee-free reasons, the scheduled cancellation cap and refunds. Review the amount displayed before confirming cancellation. A change in pickup, destination, vehicle or time may require a new price and confirmation; it does not give anyone permission to add undisclosed charges.

Conduct and safety

Follow road-safety, seatbelt, lawful capacity and applicable transport rules. Do not threaten, harass, discriminate against or abuse captains, co-riders or staff. Do not carry prohibited goods or ask a captain to drive unlawfully. Captains must not demand an undisclosed surcharge or pressure you to cancel. Report unsafe conduct with the booking reference when it is safe to do so.

For an immediate emergency, contact public emergency services on 112 first. Our booking and support channels do not replace police, ambulance or fire services. Location updates and estimated arrival times can be delayed or inaccurate and must not be your only safety measure.

Account action and closure

We may take proportionate action for a serious safety risk, fraud, non-payment, unlawful activity or a material breach. Where circumstances allow, we will explain the reason and give you a way to provide relevant information or ask for review. An urgent protective restriction may precede that review. An unverified allegation is not, by itself, proof of wrongdoing.

You may stop using the service and request account deletion. An active ride must first be completed or cancelled through the supported process. Closure does not cancel an existing refund, payment, complaint or legal obligation. Record retention is explained in the Rider Privacy Notice.

Responsibility and disputes

RCS remains responsible for its own acts, omissions and duties under applicable law. We do not exclude liability that cannot lawfully be excluded, including applicable consumer remedies. These terms do not require you to waive rights relating to injury, deficient service, misleading statements or unlawful conduct. No promise of a particular arrival time or uninterrupted service removes a remedy available under law.

Indian law governs these terms. You may approach a court, consumer commission or other authority with lawful jurisdiction. Contacting our grievance officer can help resolve a problem, but is not a compulsory step before a statutory remedy. These terms do not impose compulsory private arbitration or an exclusive court location.

Changes and contact

Material changes will be communicated before they apply where required. A new version will not retrospectively remove a right or increase a charge for a completed transaction. Any acceptance or consent required by law must be obtained separately from merely posting a revised page.

RCS Travels — Rider Privacy Notice

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Who handles your information

RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS, a proprietorship at G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207, determines how rider information is used for RCS Travels. For privacy questions or requests, contact Rajuddin at rcstravels.support@gmail.com or +91 85860 88085.

Information and purposes

We handle the following categories as needed for the service you use:

Information	Why it is used
Name, phone number, account identifiers and authentication results	Create and secure accounts, verify access and contact you about a booking.
Gender, date of birth and emergency-contact details where provided	Account information and relevant support or safety functions. These details must not be used for an undisclosed unrelated purpose.
Pickup/drop locations, device location when permitted, saved places and routes	Find pickup points, calculate routes/fares, match a captain and provide trip functions.
Booking, trip-status, cancellation and shared-ride information	Arrange and complete the requested transport, replacement and cancellation flows.
Advance/final-payment status, transaction references and refund records	Reconcile payments, prevent duplicate collection and process refunds or disputes.
Complaints, messages, documents you submit and safety/support records	Investigate and respond to service, safety and account concerns.
Device/browser information, notification tokens and technical/security logs	Operate the service, deliver notifications, diagnose failures and prevent abuse.

We receive information from you, your device, people you authorise to book, captains involved in your booking, service providers and support interactions. Do not provide another person's information without authority. We do not sell personal data. A booking request is not consent to unrelated advertising.

Location and device permissions

You can enter a location or use supported map/device-location features. Device settings control location and notification permissions. Refusing a permission may limit the relevant feature; it does not authorise unrelated collection. We do not claim the rider website continuously tracks you in the background. Captains' location information is handled separately for dispatch and active rides.

Who receives information

An assigned captain receives relevant pickup, destination, contact and booking details needed to serve the ride. Co-riders should receive only what a shared trip requires. A trip-share link can disclose trip information to anyone who receives or forwards it, including first name, pickup/drop details, schedule, captain/vehicle details and available trip progress. Share links only with people you trust.

We use providers for authentication, hosting/storage, mapping, payments, messaging and notifications. Current integrations include Clerk for account authentication, Google mapping services, Razorpay-supported payment/refund flows, Firebase notifications and WhatsApp/Meta where you use that channel. The provider receives information needed for its role. Its own notice may also apply to processing it performs independently. Using UPI does not require you to disclose your UPI PIN or OTP to RCS or the captain.

Relevant information may be shared with authorised personnel and professional advisers for support, safety, accounting and claims, or in response to a valid legal request. We assess a request's authority and scope where permitted. A business transfer may require transfer of relevant records with appropriate legal safeguards and notice. We do not promise that every provider stores all information exclusively in India; applicable transfer and storage restrictions must be observed.

Retention and security

Different records serve different purposes. An account profile, precise location, trip record, support file, payment reference and security log should not automatically have the same retention period. We retain identifiable information only for a legitimate service, safety, accounting or legal need, and apply deletion or de-identification when that need ends, subject to a documented legal hold. We do not promise immediate deletion from every backup or every provider when you close an account.

Access should be limited to authorised people and providers. Appropriate technical and organisational measures must protect the information. No system is completely secure; report suspected misuse promptly. Where a security incident triggers a legal notification obligation, that obligation applies independently of whether you have complained.

Your choices and requests

You may ask to access or correct your information, withdraw a consent, request account closure or deletion, and raise a privacy grievance. We provide the rights required by applicable law and consider other reasonable requests. Use the contact above; identify the account and what you want changed. We may verify identity proportionately without asking for passwords, payment PINs or unnecessary identity documents.

Withdrawal may prevent a feature that needs the information, but must not be used to remove unrelated statutory rights. Some records must remain for accounting, a pending dispute, security or a legal duty. We will explain a material refusal or retention exception where law permits. Deleting the rider account removes listed profile identifiers and saved places in the current account flow; it does not itself erase every linked booking/payment record.

Children, changes and applicable law

The proposed Rider Terms require an adult account holder and an accompanying adult for a child passenger. Do not create an account for a child. Contact us if a child has supplied personal information so we can assess appropriate action and any consent/retention obligations.

This notice does not assume that every provision of the DPDP Act and Rules has already commenced. We must follow Indian privacy requirements as they apply and update notices, consent and request handling when a new obligation takes effect. Publishing this notice does not, by itself, establish compliance.

Material changes will be communicated as required, with a new version/date. New consent will be sought where required for a changed purpose. Your right to complain to a competent authority remains available under applicable law.

RCS Travels — Refund and Cancellation Policy

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Payments and the scheduled advance

Ride Now normally has no advance and no prepaid rider cancellation amount to refund. A scheduled ride normally requires a 10% advance, calculated/rounded by the booking service after applicable discounts or booking credits. A zero required advance can confirm without checkout. The advance is part-payment of the ride fare; it is not itself a cancellation fee.

When rider cancellation is fee-free

No scheduled rider cancellation fee applies where no captain is assigned, no qualifying near-pickup condition has been established, or one of the disclosed fee-free reasons applies. These reasons include:

- The captain asks you to cancel.
- The captain is taking too long or is not moving towards pickup.
- The captain is at the wrong pickup location.
- The captain demands extra money.
- The vehicle differs from the booked vehicle.
- The captain is threatening, abusive or harassing.
- A requested luggage carrier is unavailable.

Select the truthful reason and contact support if the shown amount appears wrong. Safety-related complaints can be investigated separately; a complaint does not become proven misconduct merely because it was submitted.

When a fee may apply

For a scheduled ride with an advance actually paid, the product may charge when the assigned captain's qualifying fresh location is within 500 metres of pickup, or a verified arrival has already established that condition, and no fee-free reason applies. A stale/missing current location must not by itself establish proximity. A verified arrival can remain relevant after the current location becomes stale. GPS estimates can be wrong; you may dispute the evidence and charge.

The charge is the lowest of 10% of the relevant customer-payable fare, ₹100, and the advance actually paid. Only that amount is retained; the remaining paid advance follows the refund process. The current product credits that cancellation amount to the assigned captain.

For example, a ₹2,000 payable fare with ₹200 advance can have a maximum ₹100 cancellation charge and ₹100 refund. A fee-free cancellation refunds the ₹200 advance. The actual booking quote and any more favourable mandatory rule determine your entitlement.

You must see the cancellation amount before confirmation. If relevant facts change before submission and the amount changes, the service must request confirmation of the revised amount rather than silently take a higher charge.

Captain cancellation, replacement and missed pickup

A captain can cancel before the ride starts through supported states. The booking can then return to matching for a replacement; a scheduled advance remains attached to that booking while replacement is sought. Captain cancellation is not an automatic notice that your booking has ended or that a refund has already reached your bank.

If you do not want a replacement or the ride cannot be provided, use the supported rider cancellation/support process. A driver-fault cancellation must not be treated as rider fault. Any captured advance that is refundable must be returned. Contact the grievance officer if a replacement is not found, the pickup is missed or a fee is incorrectly shown. Refunds and any compensation required by applicable law are separate entitlements; this policy does not replace one with an optional voucher.

Processing and payment errors

A refund due is initiated through the supported payment-provider process to the original payment source where supported. Refund eligibility, initiation, provider processing and bank credit are different stages. We will communicate available status and follow up on a failure. No universal instant-credit or fixed bank-credit deadline is promised by this policy. A mandatory deadline continues to apply where the law sets one.

A cash payment cannot automatically produce a payment-gateway refund. Contact support with the booking and receipt/transaction reference so the payment and suitable return method can be verified. Never pay a processing charge, scan a collection QR or disclose a UPI PIN to receive a refund.

Report duplicate payments, payment debited without booking confirmation or an incorrect fare promptly. Do not assume a pending payment failed merely because a notification is delayed. Support should reconcile verified debits, refunds and provider records without collecting the same fare twice.

Complaints and statutory rights

Contact Rajuddin at rcstravels.support@gmail.com or +91 85860 88085 with the booking reference and payment issue. You do not have to surrender statutory refund, compensation or consumer remedies to use support. Applicable law prevails where it gives you a better outcome than these product rules.

RCS Travels — Rider Grievance Policy

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Contact

Grievance contact: Rajuddin, for RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS.

- Email: rcstravels.support@gmail.com.
- Phone: +91 85860 88085.
- Postal address: G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207.

You can raise a concern about a booking, fare, payment, cancellation, refund, captain conduct, safety, accessibility, account or personal information. Email provides a written record. Do not assume continuous telephone coverage. For an immediate emergency call 112 first.

What to send

Give your booking reference or registered contact details, date/time, what happened, the outcome you seek and relevant screenshots or payment references. Keep sensitive information proportionate to the issue. Do not send passwords, OTPs or payment PINs. If you cannot identify a booking, describe the issue so we can tell you what information is reasonably needed.

Acknowledgement and investigation

Our proposed service standard is to acknowledge a consumer complaint within 48 hours of receipt, provide a reference or identifiable written record, and seek redress within one month. A shorter applicable legal deadline takes priority. We will give you a copy or summary of the complaint as recorded so you can identify a misunderstanding. These steps apply when this policy is adopted; this candidate does not establish that they are already staffed.

We assess relevant booking, payment, location and communication records and may request information from the people involved. A credible urgent safety concern should be considered promptly for protective action. We aim to avoid unnecessary disclosure of your information to the other party.

Outcome and review

We will communicate the outcome and the basis for a material decision where law permits, including an approved refund or correction and its available status. If an issue cannot be resolved within the stated period, we will explain the delay and next step; that explanation does not extend a mandatory legal deadline. You may ask Rajuddin to reconsider a decision and submit additional evidence. Where practical, someone other than the original decision-maker should examine a disputed material decision. RCS is a small proprietorship and does not promise an independent external adjudicator.

External remedies

You may use the National Consumer Helpline at https://consumerhelpline.gov.in/ or approach an appropriate consumer commission, court, transport authority, police or other competent authority as applicable. Internal review is not a prerequisite to a statutory remedy. This policy does not claim that RCS is already a National Consumer Helpline convergence partner.

Privacy complaints use the same contact. We will apply the relevant Indian privacy law and any statutory request or grievance deadline that is in force.

RCS Travels — Captain Terms

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Parties and scope

These terms concern access to the RCS captain service operated by RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS, a proprietorship at G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207. They apply together with the Captain Privacy Notice, Captain Payments Policy and Captain Grievance Policy when properly adopted and accepted.

The actual work arrangement and applicable law determine your legal rights and classification. Calling you a captain or service partner does not remove a right that law gives you, establish employment status, or transfer RCS's own legal duties to you.

Eligibility, vehicle and documents

Use only your own approved account and an approved vehicle appropriate for the ride. You must be an adult and legally eligible for the vehicle and work. Keep driving licence, registration, insurance, fitness, tax, pollution/CNG and permit documents valid wherever required. Tell RCS immediately about expiry, suspension, a material document change, an accident or another fact affecting eligibility. Do not lend an account or substitute an unapproved driver/vehicle.

Submit accurate, lawfully obtained documents and use riders' information only for the service. Approval in an app does not replace a legal vehicle or driver requirement, and does not remove RCS's verification responsibilities.

Offers and accepted rides

Availability and ride offers depend on demand, location, vehicle eligibility and service rules. We do not guarantee a volume of work or earnings. These terms do not impose exclusivity or prohibit lawful work for another service. Handle accepted commitments safely before changing availability or stopping work. Do not accept conflicting rides you cannot serve.

For an accepted ride, proceed to the disclosed pickup, use accurate status updates, check the passenger/booking as appropriate and follow the lawful route/service arrangement. Keep the app's required location permissions enabled while online or serving a ride. If a device or network problem makes status inaccurate, contact support when safe.

Conduct and safety

Drive lawfully, wear seatbelts and enforce lawful capacity. Do not drive under the influence or while unfit, harass or discriminate, threaten anyone, or misuse a passenger's details. Do not demand an undisclosed charge, ask a rider to cancel to avoid rules or collect the same fare twice. Do not contact a rider after the trip for an unrelated purpose.

For an immediate emergency call 112 first, and report the incident to support when safe. Cooperate with lawful incident and insurance procedures. The app does not replace statutory safety duties or public emergency services. This document does not represent that a particular training, insurance or control room service is already supplied by RCS.

Payments and cancellations

Follow the Captain Payments Policy and booking-specific fare/settlement information. Use the supported cancellation flow and give a truthful reason. Before the ride starts, the current flow supports captain cancellation while assigned, en route or arrived. Started rides require appropriate support or emergency handling. A cancellation may return the rider booking to matching and may create a responsibility-review record.

A report or cancellation record is not automatically a proven disciplinary finding. Any charge or account action must have a lawful and disclosed basis. You may inspect relevant statements and challenge errors. This document does not introduce an automatic fine, raw-complaint strike threshold or forfeiture of earned money.

Restrictions, complaints and review

RCS may apply a proportionate protective restriction for a credible safety risk, suspected fraud, invalid documents or a legal requirement. Where circumstances allow, it should explain the reason, identify the information you can respond to and provide an accessible review route. A protective restriction does not by itself prove misconduct. Sensitive information may need to be withheld where law or another person's safety requires it.

Use the Captain Grievance Policy to dispute a deduction, allegation or restriction and provide relevant evidence. Corrected decisions should lead to corresponding account and financial corrections. Nothing here authorises retaliation for a good-faith complaint or use of lawful remedies.

Leaving and responsibility

You may request to leave and close your account. Safely resolve accepted active rides through the supported process. A balance or dispute must be reconciled lawfully; account closure does not forfeit undisputed earned money or erase records that must remain. The current app may prevent deletion while a ride is active. Privacy/retention rules are in the Captain Privacy Notice.

Each party remains responsible for its own acts, omissions and non-excludable duties. These terms do not create unlimited indemnity, waive mandatory worker or transport protections, or exclude liability that cannot lawfully be excluded. Indian law applies. You may use a competent court or statutory authority; these terms do not impose compulsory arbitration or an exclusive court location.

Material changes require appropriate notice and acceptance where applicable. Completed rides and accrued rights must not be retrospectively changed by posting new terms. Contact Rajuddin at rcstravels.support@gmail.com or +91 85860 88085.

RCS Travels — Captain Privacy Notice

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Responsible business and contact

RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS, a proprietorship at G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207, handles captain and vehicle information for RCS Travels. Contact Rajuddin at rcstravels.support@gmail.com or +91 85860 88085 about personal information.

Information and purposes

We handle profile/contact details, authentication identifiers, profile photo, driving licence and vehicle/eligibility documents you provide; vehicle details; offer/ride/status and cancellation history; payment, UPI payout verification, commission, holds, wallet, payout and financial-dispute records; complaints, evidence, notices, responses and appeals; and device/app/notification/security information. Only information relevant to a legitimate function should be requested.

These records are used to verify eligibility, arrange rides, support navigation and pickup, calculate/reconcile money, investigate complaints, notify you of decisions, consider a response/appeal, prevent fraud and meet applicable legal requirements. Information comes from you, your device, booked rides/riders, providers and lawful support or regulatory interactions.

Precise and background location

The captain app is designed to collect precise location while you are online, including in the background, for nearby offers, dispatch and live ride progress. Depending on the supported device/feature, observations can include coordinates, timestamp, accuracy, speed and bearing. Location also supports pickup evidence and operational review.

Device permission settings control access. The app may require relevant permissions to go online. Going offline is intended to stop availability reporting, subject to completing accepted work and device/network behaviour. You may change permissions or close the app, but doing so can prevent matching or interrupt ride updates. We do not claim background location works identically on every phone or that an offline switch instantly erases prior records.

Sharing and providers

Riders receive relevant captain identity/photo, vehicle, contact and ride location/status information for their booking. Rider-created share links may also make relevant captain and vehicle/trip details visible to recipients. Authorised support/review staff receive information needed to resolve the matter; it must not become general access to your documents or private records.

Current integrations include Clerk authentication, Google mapping/routing, Firebase notifications and Razorpay-related payment/payout functions where activated. WhatsApp/Meta handles messages if that channel is used. Hosting, database and storage providers process relevant service records. Each provider's own notice may apply to independent processing. This notice does not guarantee that every provider processes all information only in India.

Relevant records may be disclosed for a lawful authority request, urgent safety issue, accounting/claims advice or a business transfer with appropriate safeguards. The request and scope must be assessed where permitted. We do not sell personal data or authorise unrelated use of passenger information.

Account action and your response

Dispatch and eligibility decisions can use location, documents, existing rides, account status and service records. Complaints and financial responsibility may involve a separate review. You may ask for relevant reasons, correct inaccurate information and use the Captain Grievance Policy to challenge a material adverse decision. This notice does not promise that every decision is wholly manual or that a raw complaint is a proven finding.

Retention, deletion and security

Document, trip, finance, location, support and security records have different purposes. They must not all be retained indefinitely merely because they are linked to a stable account identifier. Relevant lawful retention and dispute holds can require some records to remain after account closure.

The current deletion route removes the live profile identifiers listed in that flow, takes the account offline and deletes its current-location record; profile-photo and authentication-provider cleanup can require follow-up if the provider step fails. It preserves linked ride, wallet and audit history and does not itself delete every uploaded eligibility document or historical record. Request a record-specific review if you need further deletion.

We use appropriate access and security controls and require relevant providers to protect information for their role. No system is completely secure. Report unauthorised account/document access promptly. Legal incident-reporting duties apply independently of an individual complaint.

Requests and changes

Contact the person above to seek access/correction, withdraw a consent, request closure/deletion or raise a grievance. We may verify identity proportionately. Do not send passwords, UPI PINs or unnecessary document copies. If a request cannot be fully met because of a legal duty or a pending claim, we should explain the relevant exception where permitted.

We apply Indian privacy requirements according to their commencement and scope; this notice does not treat every DPDP duty as already in force. Any material change of purpose requires the notice/consent mandated by law. Your statutory remedies and applicable request deadlines remain available.

RCS Travels — Captain Payments Policy

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Fare and payment records

Collect only the amount shown or lawfully authorised for the booking. The rider uses supported payment/cash-recording flows; a pending screen or an unverified screenshot is not proof of a completed payment. Do not ask for an undisclosed surcharge or the same fare twice. Raise an error with the booking reference and supporting payment information.

Scheduled customer bookings normally use a 10% advance and a remaining payment after completion, with rounding, discounts and credits calculated by the service. Customer advance, captain acceptance hold, commission, cancellation compensation and payout are different entries; none should be described as interchangeable deposits.

Commission and pass-through charges

The current calculation charges 10% commission when the eligible driving fare after the coupon is at least ₹800. Below that threshold it calculates no commission. Specified toll, parking, airport-access and luggage-carrier amounts are excluded from that calculation where recorded as pass-through charges. A safer-route driving surcharge is part of the driving component. Promotional commission relief may apply where the service explicitly records it.

The booking/statement should identify the fare, relevant adjustment and deduction. This description records the inspected product calculation; any mandatory fare-share or other applicable requirement still governs. It does not approve an undisclosed deduction or settle tax treatment. Changes require proper notice and must not retrospectively increase a completed ride's charge.

Captain acceptance holds and balances

Where a scheduled acceptance requires a hold, review the displayed amount before accepting. The inspected product uses a 10% scheduled acceptance hold for a qualifying new acceptance, released when the booking reaches a supported terminal completion/cancellation outcome. A captain cancellation can rematch the booking without immediately releasing an existing hold. Request review if a hold remains after the booking ends or matching fails.

A negative balance can restrict new work under the account rules. A cleared payment must be reconciled against the actual debt; an excess collection must not simply become unexplained revenue. Request the statement and dispute an error before treating a balance as correct. An internal wallet/ledger is not described here as a bank deposit, prepaid payment instrument or guaranteed stored-value product.

Cancellations and responsibility

The scheduled rider cancellation charge is capped at 10% of the relevant customer-payable fare, ₹100 and the advance actually paid. Disclosed valid reasons waive it. The product credits qualifying rider cancellation compensation to the assigned captain; it is separate from commission.

A captain cancellation can return the booking for replacement. It does not by itself prove fault or authorise an automatic arbitrary fine. A financial responsibility decision must have a disclosed, lawful basis and an accessible record/review route. Corrections, refunds and reversals should be reflected once without duplicated recovery. Mandatory passenger remedies remain payable where required, independently of an optional credit or another party's debt.

Payouts, cash and account closure

Supported final UPI payments may be directed to the captain's verified payout UPI account; other balances can require platform settlement. Cash received directly is not a later UPI payout as well. Review which part of the fare was actually collected, by whom and through which channel before seeking payout.

A payout must use verified payment details and available, reconciled money. Initiated, processing, paid, failed and reversed are different states. This policy does not promise an unverified daily/weekly payout cycle or provider activation. RCS must disclose the applicable settlement arrangement before captains rely on it; contact support if no clear arrangement has been provided. An account closure does not forfeit undisputed earned money.

Tax, errors and complaints

Each party must meet the tax obligations that law places on it. Applicable taxes, statutory deductions and supporting statements must be explained; this policy does not invent a GST rate, tax exemption or registration number. A platform's statutory responsibility cannot be transferred by merely calling the captain responsible for all tax.

Contact Rajuddin at rcstravels.support@gmail.com or +91 85860 88085 about an unexplained deduction, hold, payout or collection. Provide the booking/entry reference and relevant receipt, without OTPs, PINs or passwords. The Captain Grievance Policy explains review and lawful escalation options.

RCS Travels — Captain Grievance Policy

Version: 1 November 2026. Completed drafting candidate; not adopted or in effect.

Contact and scope

Raise an issue with Rajuddin for RAJUDDIN trading as R C S TRAVELS:

- Email: rcstravels.support@gmail.com.
- Phone: +91 85860 88085.
- Address: G T Road Dadri, Ramgopal Enclave Colony Dadri, Gautam Buddha Nagar, Uttar Pradesh 203207.

This process covers onboarding, documents, offers, payments, holds, deductions, complaints, safety, restrictions, personal information and account closure. For an immediate emergency call 112 first. Do not assume this phone number is a continuously staffed emergency line.

Submit and record the issue

Give your account/booking/financial-entry reference, relevant dates, the decision or error you dispute, your explanation and the outcome you seek. Attach only relevant material. Do not send passwords, payment PINs or OTPs. If a notice gives an in-app response or appeal deadline, use that route promptly and retain its confirmation; do not assume a general support email automatically pauses an in-app deadline.

The proposed internal service standard is acknowledgement within 48 hours and an aim to redress within one month, subject to a shorter mandatory deadline. This is a proposed RCS standard for captain complaints, not an assertion that every captain complaint is a consumer complaint. It becomes an operational commitment when adopted and must be supported by records.

Response and decisions

RCS should identify a reference or record of the issue and seek only relevant additional information. Affected captains should have a reasonable opportunity to explain disputed evidence before a final adverse decision where law and safety permit. An allegation alone must not be represented as proven conduct.

For credible urgent safety concerns, a provisional protective restriction may be considered before a full response. Its purpose, reason and review route should be explained to the extent permitted. The review must consider both relevant evidence and the captain's response, and avoid duplicate financial consequences for the same incident without a distinct lawful basis.

Communicate the material outcome, reasons where permitted, any account or financial correction and the available next step. Keep notice, response, decision and correction records so errors can be reviewed. A progress update does not extend a legal time limit.

Reconsideration and outside remedies

If you disagree, ask for reconsideration and identify an error or additional evidence. Where practical, a person other than the original decision-maker should review a material disputed outcome. RCS does not promise an independent external adjudicator. An in-app appeal process, where available, should be used according to its notified instructions as well.

You may approach a competent transport or labour authority, court, police or other statutory forum where applicable to the issue and your legal position. This process does not create a mandatory arbitration agreement, remove non-excludable rights, require waiver of a lawful complaint, or permit retaliation for a good-faith report.

Privacy requests use the same contact and the applicable Indian privacy rules. A closed account does not prevent a legitimate complaint or recovery of an undisputed amount due.

Decisions and evidence needed before adoption

Prepared: 1 November 2026. This is an internal working record, separate from the candidate customer/captain wording. Drafting is complete; the questions below are not answered merely by drafting it. No paid professional review is being represented as a completed step or imposed as a substitute for the work.

1. Territory and service model. The owner confirmed pickups outside UP but did not identify every state/UT. Establish that list, the actual vehicle arrangements and applicable current operating conditions. Delhi/Haryana entries are research candidates, not established service locations or legal conclusions. Existing repository compliance findings remain open.
2. Adult accounts and child travel. The new candidate proposes 18+ account holders and adult-accompanied child passengers. Earlier legal copy says 15. Confirm this policy, implement age/booking acceptance and appropriate privacy controls, and reconcile all copies before changing the published rule.
3. Complaints. Proposed 48-hour acknowledgement/one-month redress targets need an incoming record, complaint copy, assigned handler, follow-up and correction process. Do not claim continuous staffing or NCH partnership.
4. Money. Verify the actual final-payment routing, payout-provider status, settlement arrangement, tax/invoice treatment and refund follow-up. No daily payout or fixed bank-credit time has been invented. Acceptance holds and replacement exhaustion require end-to-end verification.
5. Cancellation and consequences. Product arithmetic is not a determination of mandatory state-specific remedies. Confirm current missed-pickup/terminal handling, required compensation and the actual reviewed notice/appeal rules. Do not revive old raw-complaint thresholds from earlier drafts.
6. Privacy. Implement a category-specific retention/deletion schedule, verify actual vendors/storage geography and backup/provider deletion steps, and confirm native location behaviour. Account deletion preserves related records; the candidates explain that limit rather than promise full erasure.
7. Source completion. Finish primary-text retrieval and amendment checks where `data/sources.json` records incomplete/landing-page-only review. Read full final state rules and the 2026 consumer amendment Gazette before relying on a specific rule, threshold, exemption or remedy.
8. Consistent publication. After substantive decisions and prerequisites are resolved, record an adoption/version date and make the website constants, all three locale catalogs, captain surfaces, PDF and RAG copies consistent. Existing `DRAFT` indicators have not been disabled. A current task's request for final documents is not evidence that these controls already exist.

The workbench never turns an unresolved authority or implementation question into an affirmative compliance statement. It can be used for further research, drafting and verification immediately, without claiming legal certification.

Indian-source and product review

Review date: 1 November 2026, Asia/Calcutta. This record distinguishes verified text, incomplete retrieval, product observations and proposed commitments. It does not provide a complete current-law opinion across all pickup states.

Verified source findings

- The DPDP Act defines children as under 18, addresses consent/withdrawal and individual rights, and must be read with commencement. The commencement notification specifies immediate, one-year and eighteen-month phases. The final 2025 Rules, rule 1, likewise stage commencement. Consequently the candidates do not say every DPDP duty is currently operative. This is a commencement observation, not proof that the system meets any applicable requirement.
- The Government's 10 September 2026 consumer-affairs announcement says the amended e-commerce rules commence on 1 January 2027. It describes complaint copies, NCH convergence and transparency/dark-pattern requirements. The full amendment Gazette still needs clause-level inspection. Do not turn that alert into a statement that all new rules already apply, that all rules fit this proprietorship without analysis, or that RCS is a convergence partner.
- The 13 March UP consultation opens by inviting objections. It is a draft, so cannot establish a final operative penalty or exemption. Final-state-source reconciliation is open.
- The official Delhi scheme publication page was located. The Haryana May 2026 notification entry was located but full retrieval failed. Neither establishes that the owner operates in that jurisdiction or satisfies its conditions.

Incomplete primary retrieval

Some direct India Code, consumer rules, SPDI and CERT-In pages timed out or returned an index/error page. `data/sources.json` records those limits rather than claiming full-text verification. Search snippets and an official index are navigation, not a complete rule check. The proposed complaint service standard is identified as a proposal; no tax rate, numerical retention period or legal exemption was inferred from inaccessible text.

Current code observations

These are repository observations, not production verification:

Subject	Exact source inspected	Consequence for wording
Customer advance	`backend/services/scheduledPayments.js:14` and financial maths	10% with rounding; credits can reduce required checkout to zero.
Cancellation amount	`backend/services/cancellationPolicy.js:21`	Cap at 10%, Rs 100 and advance paid; valid reasons waive it.
Proximity evidence	`backend/services/cancellationLocationEvidence.js:23`	Fresh near-pickup or verified arrived state; do not universally waive a verified-arrival fee just because current location is stale.
Captain cancellation	`backend/services/driverRideCancellation.js:6`	Assigned/en-route/arrived supported; returns booking to replacement, not automatic rider refund.
Commission	`backend/services/commission.js:3`	10% eligible post-coupon driving fare at/above Rs 800, with specified pass-through exclusions.

Subject	Exact source inspected	Consequence for wording
Captain scheduled hold	`backend/services/scheduledDeposit.js:1`; `scheduledDepositLifecycle.js:15`	10% hold; existing holds can survive captain cancellation until the booking terminates.
Customer deletion	`backend/routes/users.js:311`	Clears listed profile identifiers and saved places, not all linked records.
Captain deletion	`backend/routes/driver.ts:423`	Clears live identifiers/current location; related ride, finance and document history can remain.
Payouts	`backend/services/driverPayouts.js:52`; `driverFinance.js:23`	Available balance and verified UPI are distinct from completed provider payout. A provider service in code is not proof of activation.
Captain location	`driver-app/src/hooks/useDriverLocation.ts:153`	Background permission/task code exists; native-device execution not observed here.

Earlier documentation can be stale: the inspected code now has captain reason-aware cancellation and newer responsibility/notice/appeal services. Their existence does not verify every operational deadline, sanction or native flow. Historical findings are retained for reconciliation, not silently closed.

Clause-to-evidence map

Candidate	Main basis	Remaining material limits
01 Rider Terms	Owner-confirmed identity; booking/payment code; conservative contractual choices	Adult-account policy adoption; full territorial and product alignment.
02 Rider Privacy	Profile/schema/deletion/location/share behaviour; phased DPDP sources	Retention, actual vendor geography and consent/request controls.
03 Refunds	Cancellation, scheduled payment and rematching code	State remedies, terminal missed pickup, provider timing.
04 Rider Grievance	Confirmed contact; proposed service standards; consumer amendment alert	Staffing, full rule scope, complaint records and adoption.
05 Captain Terms	Current cancellation, eligibility and support model	Accepted contract version, operating requirements, current notice/appeal implementation.
06 Captain Privacy	Captain deletion/location/document/payment fields; privacy sources	Retention, provider cleanup, native behaviour and actual processing inventory.
07 Captain Payments	Commission/hold/wallet/payment/payout code	Settlement schedule, provider activation, taxes and mandatory fare conditions.
08 Captain Grievance	Confirmed contact; proposed review standards	Operations, in-app deadlines and legally required procedures.

The first page of every candidate explicitly says it is not adopted/in effect. Removing that sentence is not the act of resolving these findings. The workbench's quotation/text checks cannot give a legal opinion; their precise limits are included in each response and in README.md.
